

rotten hand. Once she tried to pick the top three screwed-up things in her life:

1. Never new who my daddy was
2. Ma was a f-ing junky and ended up in the slammer
3. Forsed to give up my baby

There's only one guy who can make Kim forget about the daughter she had when she was fifteen and in juvie. Jack Daniels. But just last week she got a phone call—seems the baby girl she never knew is now twenty-two, named Lauren, and wants to meet her birth mother. Kim almost wept when she heard her daughter's voice. Well, after hollering, "Whoever this really is, stop fucking with me!" and hanging up on her twice.
