

don't need no rehab or Twelve-Step," Kim often declares to her parole officer. "I can quit drinking any ol' time I want!"

With one Drunk and Disorderly and two DUIs, you'd think Kim would want to quit sooner rather than later. But besides riding her Yamaha VStar 650, drinking's about the only thing she really digs. Oh, and she doesn't mind kicking back with her old man, Casper. And riding with him. And drinking with him. They live together at the Super 8 Motel in Phoenix.

In and out of foster homes and juvenile detention centers from the time she was eight until she turned eighteen, Kim was dealt a
