

Mobilizing Canada's Resources

Canada was willing but not prepared for war and they had no trouble finding volunteers.

The first Canadian troops sailed from Halifax on December 10, 1939

Many felt strong ties to Britain they volunteered for a sense of duty and national pride which also gave them a steady income